AN IMPORTANT MESSAGE

From The Chief Executive Officer

Given the events of the past week as covered extensively in media reports, it is timely to issue a reminder to all club officials of the limited provisions for non-playing personnel to enter the field of play.

WRFL Regulations 10, 11, 12, 13 and 14 specify the limited circumstances where persons other than players and officiating umpires are permitted to enter the field of play:

Regulation 10: There is no provision for coaches to enter the field (except in Under 9 & Under 10 games – refer to Regulation 14, Modified Rules). Clearly, coaches must not enter the field except at quarter breaks. Attention is also drawn to Regulation 50.2, Coaches Box – White Line, which requires coaches to remain behind a white line drawn one metre outside the boundary line immediately in front of the coaches box. Indeed, all personnel permitted to occupy the coaches box must remain behind that line.

Regulation 11: Permits approved trainers to enter the playing field for the sole purposes of attending to injured players, officials or umpires; or delivering drinks to players or umpires.

Regulation 12: Permits official water persons to enter the playing field for the sole purpose of delivering drinks.

Regulation 13: Permits official runners to enter the playing field for the sole purpose of performing duties specified for runners and subject to the direction of all umpires.

Regulation 14: Permits coaches on the playing field in Under 9 and Under 10 games, subject to conditions.

WRFL official umpires are subject to instruction from the Umpires' Manager that games are to be abandoned where the presence of unauthorised persons on the playing field is seen to represent a safety risk to players, officials or the public.

Only official trainers are permitted to attend to injured players on the field of play. Obviously, umpires will exercise discretion in the event of emergency/serious injury. In any event, any person attending to an injured player must not interact in any way with other players, team officials or umpires.

LOCAL LEGENDS

A Western Region Football League Regular Feature

TEDDY BELAYNEH is a local legend. He migrated to Australia from Sudan five years ago and at the time knew nothing about Australian Rules football. In fact at the time, the then 18 year-old couldn't even speak a word of English.

Fast forward to now and the 23-year-old is a competent Western Region Football League senior umpire and an ambassador of the Western Bulldogs Football Leadership and AMES football programs.

Mr Belayneh was born and grew up in Sudan after his family was forced to leave Ethiopia due to political tensions.

When he came to Australia, Ms Belayneh immediately enrolled in an AMES English course and the following year, a support worker from the Footscray Youth Housing Group suggested he try out for a youth AFL Umpiring Project.

The project aims to get youths from culturally and linguistically diverse backgrounds in the West into umpiring.

Mr Belayneh was one of seven youths to show up to that first training session and now umpires Under 18 and Division One games every Saturday, and Under 14's & 16's every Sunday.

"At the moment I am the only person among the trained umpires who continued to umpire and as far as I know, I am the only umpire of Ethiopian origin in Victoria, if not in Australia," said Belayneh.

"I enjoy being an umpire. I think this is due to the support and encouragement I receive from the umpiring group."

"I am happy to say that since I started working as an umpire, many youths have been motivated to join different footy clubs."

However one thing that he won't be doing anytime soon is playing the game himself.

"When I play, I kick the ball like it's a soccer ball and I'm not used to the tackles," said Belayneh.

DES BARNARD is a local legend. He is the type of person who makes sporting clubs great. His passion for the St Albans Football Club is undeniable, as is his love of the area. Barnard has been a St Albans resident since 1950 and wouldn't have it any other way.

"I have a lot of pride in this area," the sporting icon said. "A lot of people put it down, that's why I have always worked so hard to improve the facilities we have. So our kids have something to be proud of."

From 1984 to 1996, Barnard was the president of the successful football club and for the past decade has been the general manager. His many honours include life-membership of the St Albans Football Club & St Albans Sports Club, Recognition of Service Medallion by the Victorian Metropolitan Football League and he was inducted into the St Albans Football Club Hall of Fame last year. So revered is he, that there is even a room named after him at the sports club.

His hard work and perseverance has made the club one of the most thriving sporting facilities in the area, as it boasts amenities that many other local clubs could only dream of.

"I was determined to have a successful club for the kids. It's especially important in an area like this. Kids aren't participating in sport enough, we need to encourage it and get them off the street."

However the 2006 Brimbank Citizen of the Year is reticent to receive accolades, but has vowed to continue to keep fighting for his beloved club.

"Sometimes you get to the stage when you think you can't do this anymore, but someone has to do it and it's a terrific feeling when you're successful."

His fervour for the area has never waned in 28 years.

"Everything is what you make of it. It's unfair that we get bad publicity, when so many good things happen here."

TOUGH BREAK FOR TALENTED YOUNGSTER

St Bernards Junior Upbeat Despite Freak Accident

Young Tom Comerford has had his fair share of knocks on the footy field. The gutsy 12 year-old is often referred to as the serial pest as despite his size he is always first to a contest. He is an everywhere player, putting himself in every contest, and racking up contested possession after contested possession.

However last month this in-and-under style of play took its toll on the diminutive footballer. Playing for the St Bernards Under-14's, Comerford was involved in what is best described as a freak accident. The youngster got his legs tangled with an opponent while trying to gain possession, and as he fell in the contest his femur snapped in two pieces.

It was a horrific accident, and Comerford was rushed straight to hospital to be operated on immediately. A rod with two screws was inserted into his femur, and the soon to be teenager now faces the stark reality of learning to walk again.

Leading Physiotherapist & Western Region Football League sponsor, Justin McEvoy of Physio Health, said Comerford's recovery will be a long process but is hopeful the talented junior will return to his playing best.

"Tom will have to gradually start bending his knee, learn to fully weight bear and gradually walk again," said McEvoy.

"After he achieves this he will need to perform strengthening exercises for his quadriceps, hamstrings, gluteals and calf muscles. As he gains strength and the bone begins to knit he will be able to start running in straight lines, and gradually start running drills and changing direction."

"At this stage he will have the 'intermedullary rod' and two large screws removed from his femur (after six months). This will set him back a couple of weeks before he continues to further strengthen his leg. During this phase he will be performing proprioceptive exercise to improve coordination and balance. The femur will reach 98% of full strength within 1 year and 100% in 2 years."

A talented junior, Comerford grew up in Strathmore and played his first four years of competitive football with the local Strathmore Football Club. Achieving great success in his early days, Comerford was part of an EDFL premiership winning side in 2008 and won two best-and-fairests in his time at the club, before transferring over to St Benards at the beginning of the 2010 season.

Many former & current teammates have been quick to wish Comerford a speedy recovery, and Western Region Football League CEO, Bob Tregear, was one of many to lend support to the talented junior.

"From all accounts Tom is a very gifted footballer, and we look forward to seeing him back playing in the WRFL in 2012," said Tregear.

"All the staff at the ground should be commended on following the structures & procedures the league has in place to deal with these types of incidents – and everyone at the WRFL wishes Tom a speedy recovery."

Despite the injury Comerford is upbeat about his recovery and was quick to thank those who helped him on the day.

"I am grateful for all the people who have given me the support and help when I was in need," he said.

"I am now counting down the minutes until I can run out onto that field again."

DIVISION ONE

By Leigh Eustace

Last week I mentioned that should St Albans get over the line at Cherry Reserve they would deserve the right to be mentioned in the group chasing Spotswood – being a group that produced Albion last year and we all know how that went.

The term free hit may have been bandied around and regardless of the mindset amongst the inner sanctum it paid immense dividends as the Saints toppled Altona with a four goal to one final term to sneak out a five point victory.

With the win they leapfrogged the Vikings, who were emerging as the outstanding third side behind Spotswood and Albion, and now host another important fixture against a flattened Hoppers Crossing.

The Warriors felt every bit of the Woodsmen's force last Saturday with a 25-goal loss at home – sending them to sixth with a three and four record.

A trip to Kings Park Reserve won't be easy now especially with the Saints' recent good form, yet Hoppers will need to show something if they want to keep their finals prospects in their own hands. The last thing the Warriors want is to rely on other results and mathematics in two months time.

Meanwhile those Vikings, who can't believe they dropped that classic last weekend, now have another tough trip in Division One football, across the bridge to play the Colts.

Port Colts have ever so quietly surged to third on the ladder with the previous rounds results, and even more silently have been amassing some fairly good form.

Altona need a big bounce back and for Port Colts it's a chance to take outright ownership of third spot on the table and make those at Murphy Reserve a little nervous.

Speaking of Murphy Reserve, it will see Spotswood take on North Footscray, the Red Devils going down to Sunshine last week, who take on neighbours Sunshine Heights at Kinder Reserve.

The round's final game before the long weekend has Albion hosting Glenorden.

DEVILS CAN LIFT

Newcomers Aim For Big Upset

North Footscray coach David Batistella is not going to settle for slightly exceeding expectations. He acknowledges that the Devils deserve a “pass mark” for winning two of its first seven games in Division One, but is looking for his side to give some of the more accomplished teams a run for their money.

“Some people would say we’re succeeding I would say we might have a pass mark, I just want them to aim a bit higher and I reckon we can maybe cause a few upsets,” said Batistella.

“I wouldn’t say we’re happy with how we’re going because you’re not happy if you’re not winning, I just feel that there have been some opportunities there where we can win some of these games and we probably haven’t taken them.”

North Footscray’s losing margin to Sunshine last week was sizeable, but nothing like the thrashings suffered by Glenorden, Sunshine Heights or even Hoppers Crossing last weekend.

Adjusting to Division One has posed challenges, and the Devils are starting to realise how much harder they have to work to beat the opposition.

“The amount of work you’ve got to do when you don’t have the football, that’s a huge difference from last year. We moved the ball quite well when we are up and running... so we’re capable of scoring and scoring quickly, but everything has to be going right for us.”

“There’s lot of bigger bodies and we’re not used to that. We’re much bigger than we used to be but that’s another level again.”

“We’ve been competitive, the biggest challenge for us is sustaining that level for four quarters,” he said.

“I want the boys to set their targets a little bit higher and aim to win some of these games.”

North Footscray have also had injuries to key players, including defenders Robbie Davis and Jarrod Arnott as well as goalkicker Todd Miller, and the Devils lack the depth of other sides to cover such losses.

This week the Devils face their toughest assignment of their promotion year, an away fixture at Spotswood. It is a daunting assignment for the side, but no better opportunity to show that they rightly deserve a spot in the league’s premier competition.

VFL GOES LOCAL

Williamstown & North Ballarat Clash At Keilor

The Williamstown Football Club road show continues next weekend, as the Seagulls host reigning premiers North Ballarat in a one-off fixture at Keilor Football Ground. With all leagues enjoying a break over the Long Weekend, punters are expected to flock in numbers to get a glimpse of the informal Seagulls.

The game will also serve as a fundraiser for eight local Western Suburbs girls who have been selected to represent Australia in the World U-19 Ladies Lacrosse Championships in Germany.

The girls, Lauren Hunter (Williamstown Womens Lacrosse Club), Stephanie McNamara (Newport Ladies Lacrosse Club), Danelle Mollison, Darcy Justice-Allen, Stella Justice-Allen, Theadora Kwas, Rebecca Lane & Danielle Lane (Footscray Lacrosse Club), will be presented at the President's Luncheon at Keilor with 50% of all monies raised donated to the girls. It is a great initiative by the football club, who are hoping spectators turn up in droves to see the high-flying Seagulls.

Williamstown General Manager, Brendan Curry, said the re-development of the side's home ground gave the club the opportunity to bring VFL football to a number of suburban grounds.

"The Williamstown Football Club are undergoing a $8.3 million redevelopment at Burbank Oval which necessitated the Club to plan to play its 2011 home games at different venues," said Curry.

"Earlier in the year on Easter Sunday, Williamstown played Geelong at Torquay and the day was an outstanding success with 4300 people in attendance. We hope the Queen's Birthday game at Keilor will be successful as well especially with no games being played on this day in the Western Region Football League and the Essendon District Football League. "

Aside from their Foxtel Cup commitments, Williamstown will also travel to Wangaratta to host the Collingwood VFL side, with the Western Jets and Murray Bushrangers playing the curtain-raiser.

Curry said that punters were enjoying watching the quality of the VFL fixtures, and that hopefully the club would recruit a small following of fans for the following season.

"The most regular feedback I receive when people witness a VFL game for the first time is that they cannot believe the standard," said Curry.

"Hopefully plenty of WRFL supporters can come along and support the Seagulls on the 11th of June at Keilor and have a great day witnessing top standard football."

WILLIAMSTOWN FOOTBALL CLUB

MAJOR SPONSOR OF WRFL JUNIOR SECTION

DIVISION TWO

By Leigh Eustace

A couple of potential finals rehearsals take place in Division Two this weekend at Yarraville and Parkside.

Firstly at the Yarraville Oval the up-and-about Eagles, sitting pretty in third with five wins from eight games, go head to head with the sixth-placed Laverton, who have four wins from seven.

The Magpies have most certainly impressed so far this year and despite an annihilation from the all-conquering Deer Park last week definitely have the aptitude and belief they can travel to Williamstown Road and take the points.

Those Eagles however, riding a percentage over 200, want to keep on the back wheels of Deer Park and Albanvale and leave the peloton in their wake – so a slip-up to the visiting Laverton is out of the question.

Our other potential post-season matchup happens by the banks of the Maribyrnong where a rebounding Parkside entertain the rested Coburg Districts.

After a slow start the Magpies now find themselves in fifth and with the right results this week could establish a gap with the following pack.

One of those chasing however is Coburg Districts, the Lions holding a three and three record with the break almost upon us and with the perfect opportunity to take down a higher-ranked Parkside. A win at Merv Hughes Oval on Saturday would see them assume the Magpies spot and thrust them back into the picture for 2011 – and a classic encounter awaits.

Both games will offer us a significant amount about which sides will be in the mix come season's end, and who will serve up some post-season competition to heavyweights Deer Park & Albanvale.

Elsewhere this round Deer Park travel to North Sunshine to take on the Roadrunners and Braybrook head to Albanvale.

Finally, Wyndhamvale host Caroline Springs, and despite a better effort from the Lakers last week, the Falcons are no doubt favourites to secure another important four points.

RESULTS

Braybrook 7.5-47 def. by Parkside 21.25-151

Caroline Springs 14.8-92 def. by Albanvale 20.15-135

Laverton Magpies 6.6-42 def. by
Deer Park 34.17-221

West Footscray 14.13-97 def. by Wyndhamvale 15.10-100

LIVE FOOTY GETS MIXED RECEPTION

Clubs Voice Thoughts On TV Rights Deal

Key football figures have rejected suggestions the AFL's $1.253 billion TV rights deal will hurt crowd numbers at suburban games, but local clubs are singing a different tune.

From 2012, Foxtel will show all nine games live each week, while Channel 7 will broadcast three games live and one on delay.

With so much AFL on TV, there is potential for the casual local observer to opt for an afternoon on the couch. This would be bad news for suburban clubs, who generate a significant portion of their revenue on match days.

But Western Region Football League CEO Bob Tregear said there is no reason why fans can't still get their local and AFL footy fix.

"I don't think it's going to have any impact on community football attendances," Tregear said.

"Everybody was worried when they started televising Saturday and Sunday games that it was going to upset community football, but what's actually happened is they've spread it over Friday night, Saturday afternoon, Saturday night, Sunday and Monday.

"It's actually been the best thing that's ever happened to us. You don't have to make a choice between AFL and community football anymore."

Essendon District Football League (EDFL) general manager Marc Turri said the blockbuster AFL games do impact on crowds, citing the clash between traditional rivals Essendon and Carlton on 16 April as the most recent example.

"Other than that, attendances have been pretty good in the current AFL climate and I don't expect that to change significantly once the new rights deal begins, simply because there is more live football," Turri said.

"The impact will come more from who is scheduled to play in the Saturday afternoon timeslot, rather than the fact that there is a game.

"At present, Foxtel will be the only broadcaster showing live Saturday afternoon football and only about 30 per cent of households have Foxtel."

Turri said local leagues will hope the AFL continues to schedule big-drawing matches on Friday and Saturday nights.

Spotswood president Chris Murphy conceded the rights deal will have "some impact" on crowds and called for a deal to be established allowing local clubs to have Foxtel installed in their clubrooms at a cheaper rate.

Wyndhamvale president John Willaton also claimed it will have an impact, while North Footscray president Warwick Lucas conceded times had simply changed.

"It's not like the old days where there was footy on a Saturday afternoon and if you didn't go to AFL, you went to local footy. These days, there is just too much on," Lucas said.

But Deer Park president Mark McGoldrick is confident crowds will continue to flock to suburban games.

"I don't think it will have an impact. The AFL is doing us a favour by charging $10 for a beer and $8 for a pie. We charge $4 for a beer and $3 for a pie," he said.

"Our revenue has certainly tripled in the last four years and we've grown as a club as well, but a lot of people are coming back to local footy."

Williamstown general manager Brendan Curry said the new agreement will not affect VFL crowd numbers, and that the Seagulls did not rely heavily on revenue from the gate.

AFL Victoria general manager Grant Williams said: "Despite all AFL matches being available live on TV, the trend of supporters venturing out and cheering on their local team should continue."

He added that the money gained from the TV rights was expected to be invested in Auskick, multicultural, schools, female, Indigenous and other programs.

CLUBS CALL FOR CASH

Locals Want AFL Money To Benefit Suburban Footy

Suburban football clubs in the West believe they deserve a slice of the AFL's $1.253 billion TV rights deal.

Western Region Football League clubs have made it clear they need extra assistance in the highly competitive suburban sports environment. Countless volunteers work long hours to keep their clubs afloat and the call is simple – clubs, and their members, want more money to aid them in remaining viable.

Spotswood president Chris Murphy is adamant a portion of money delivered to AFL Victoria from the deal should be shoved in to the WRFL's coffers, not distributed to individual clubs, to ensure equality.

The cost of affiliation fees – on top of equipment and uniform costs and player payments – is a bugbear for suburban sides.

And clubs believe they are not receiving adequate funding from outside sources, with requests for grants often denied.

"If it (extra money) was utilised at the league level, it's a more even balance for all the clubs benefiting from it," Murphy said.

"We struggle at times and I'm sure every club is in the same boat. We're probably fortunate we have some very good sponsors on board."

While the focus for most clubs is building a strong senior team, a thriving junior program is equally important.

Deer Park president Mark McGoldrick said that while his club charges just a $100 fee to junior players – which he believes is the cheapest in the area – it is also often forced to remunerate a member to head up the junior program.

According to McGoldrick, money gained from the TV rights deal should be used to deduct affiliation fees, which would help ease the burden on struggling clubs.

He said this was the most logical and fair solution. "I think to get those deducted across the board would obviously help the clubs," McGoldrick said.

"I think the best way would be for the AFL to put in and finance a person to work for the WRFL through the AFL coffers. That would be the most common sense shortcut for the clubs to save money."

Wyndhamvale president John Willaton said an upgrade of junior facilities and ice baths to assist the senior teams in their recovery are at the top of his wish-list.

"It's not easy to be competitive. It's more than difficult," Willaton said.

"I think ice baths are something that clubs at our level haven't got. All clubs would be better off with them for recovery.

"There are a hell of a lot of areas where money would help, but every club has to operate to their budget I suppose and some clubs have got more of a budget than others."

North Footscray president Warwick Lucas said simply surviving was an ongoing challenge.

The Devils were promoted to the WRFL Division One competition this season, but Lucas said the club had only experienced a small rise in crowd numbers.

"Anywhere we could get money from would be good," he said.

"It gets harder every year. Finding sponsors is harder, getting membership (fees) out of players and getting money into the club gets harder every year.

"It's not like the old days where you go up and ask someone if they can sponsor the club and they hand over money. You've got to build partnerships now rather than just sponsorships."

Lucas said player payments also put a dent in any revenue gained.

"It just seems that the player payments get more extravagant every year and we just can't keep up with that."

UMPIRES CORNER

News From The Umpires' Association

The Queen's Birthday weekend is often looked upon by some people as a special time of the year. Although the Queen's actual birthday is on 21st April, the holiday allows many people to use the long weekend to get away from work and the usual hum drum and routine of city life.

A glance at the WRFL fixture sees that there are no games scheduled over that weekend which gives many people, especially the hard working officials from our many wonderful clubs, a bit of a breather. But not all the players have put away their footy gear for an extra week. There are several under age teams that will take to the field and play under the WRFL banner.

The majority of the umpires also get a break from the regular routine although some of them will be involved in some of the interleague matches. It's interesting to note that, in the main, umpires do not usually officiate in games where their own association plays. Thus, the WRFL umpires will see action between the Essendon, Northern, Moorabbin Saints, Riddell and Eastern football leagues.

There are also some Under 14 and Under 15 games in the annual Vic Metro Championships where our own umpires will be officiating. Not all these games are played on the actual long weekend as some are played immediately prior or immediately following the Queen's Birthday weekend.

It is a reward for hard work and good performances that allow umpires, either field, boundary or goal, get selected for these prestige games. Unfortunately, a certain number of umpires are unavailable due to work, family or other commitments.

The Vic Metro games are organised by the AFL Victoria and they ask for umpires that are capable of performing at a high standard.

Umpires, much like the players, strive to be involved because the games are played between combined teams. This means that even if it is an under age team, the best performed and skilled players at that level are in action. It is also an honour to be selected ahead of one's peers.

Some people keenly follow the results of the games where one association is pitted against another. Umpires, too, are also quite competitive and look at the other officiating umpires from other associations to see how they compare to our own WRFL whistle blowers, boundary riders and flag wavers.

Congratulations to all the players and officials that are representing the WFRL in the various games. May they put their best foot forward and enjoy the experience. Good luck also to the umpires who will be officiating during the games. Here's hoping that the matches will be one of the highlights of your umpiring for this season.

DIVISION ONE (U18)

Proudly Sponsored by Werribee Tigers Football Club

Altona continues to set the pace at the top of the Division One ladder, sweeping aside fellow ladder leaders St Albans last weekend and confirming their status as premiership favourites. A lot can happen in the backend of a season, and there are still plenty of sides that could challenge for the crown, however the Vikings have answered every challenge thrown their way so far this season and rightly deserve to be considered the best side in the competition at present. Altona will now enjoy a bizarre three weekends off before resuming the second half of their season on the 25th June – a fixturing irregularity that can only be of benefit to their fellow Division One rivals.

The strongest of these rivals, St Albans & Hoppers Crossing, go head-to-head this weekend with second spot on the ladder up for grabs. The Warriors have already had two byes and were a little rusty in their return fixture last weekend after a fortnight off. The side limped home against Spotswood after three close quarters – a far cry from their opening season form which saw them obliterate Albion, North Footscray & Sunshine Heights. It will be a classic contest this weekend and could go either way – with both sides able to take the four points if they play at their best.

Elsewhere this weekend Spotswood should confirm their spot in the top half of the division with a home tie against the struggling North Footscray. While the Devils seniors have managed to take a couple of scalps, it has been a tougher run for the Under-18 side, and the run of losses doesn't look likely to end this weekend.

The final fixture of the round is a Sunshine Derby between the Kangaroos & Dragons. Despite both sides sitting at one win from five games, the winner of this one could be in the top five by weekend's end, and on form one would have to favour the Kangaroos to knock off the Dragons at Kinder Reserve and sneak into finals contention.

WILL'S SKILL SPEAKS VOLUMES

Hoskin-Elliott Impresses Abroad

Quietly spoken Will Hoskin-Elliott lets his football do the talking.

The Western Jet, who is eligible for this year's national draft, was a member of the 30-man AIS-AFL Academy squad that visited Europe recently.

The 17-year-old produced a strong performance in the match played against the European Legion, a team made up of the most talented under-21 players from Great Britain, France and Germany.

Hoskin-Elliott was also able to rub shoulders with former AFL champions Michael O'Loughlin, Tom Harley, Matthew Lloyd and Brett Kirk on the 12-day trip last month.

"They told us a few stories about their days and how they prepared for games, how they trained (and how that) made them better footballers and better people off the field," Hoskin-Elliott, who can play both as a wingman and half-back, said.

"Tom Harley helped me out a fair bit with courage and confidence. He was my mentor.

"It was really good and I really enjoyed it. Not many people get to do that (wear a national guernsey), so I was pretty happy."

The 182cm Hoskin-Elliott spent his junior days at North Sunshine and has been in sparkling form in the early stages of the TAC Cup season.

As part of the European journey, the players were one of the first football teams in the country to test the AIS European training base in northern Italy and attended the Dawn Service at Anzac Cove in Turkey.

In past years, the squad has travelled to South Africa.

The European side produced a brave effort against the Australian under-17s but were ultimately overwhelmed in the game on 23 April.

"I thought they were all right. They had heaps of spirit and played as a team, but we just had more experience and beat them easily," Hoskin-Elliott said.

"We did a fair bit of footy training while we were there. We got to go see some of the sites as well as train for footy."

With the 12-month AIS-AFL program now over, Hoskin-Elliott appears likely to be selected in the Vic Metro team for this season's under-18 National Championships, which kick off on Sunday.

"I'll be trying out for Vic Metro, then back to the Jets and hopefully draft camp later in the year."

ELLIOT SET FOR GREATNESS

Kavanagh Hand-Picked For Exclusive Academy

Elliot Kavanagh will always have fond memories of his trip to Europe as a member of the AIS-AFL Academy.

The 17-year-old Western Jets midfielder did not take to the field for Australia against European Legion ñ made up of the most talented under-21 players from Great Britain, France and Germany – in London on 23 April.

But the fact Kavanagh was one of 30 hand-picked for the 12-month training program indicates he has a promising career ahead.

Former AFL champions Michael O'Loughlin, Tom Harley, Matthew Lloyd and Brett Kirk were among those who toured with the emerging stars last month.

As part of the trip, the players were one of the first football teams in the country to test the AIS European training base in northern Italy and attended the Dawn Service at Anzac Cove in Turkey.

Kavanagh, who spent his junior days at Williamstown, said the 12-day trek across Europe was a once-in-a-lifetime experience.

"I haven't really been on that big of a trip before. Over to Milan, London and then Turkey, it was a massive trip," Kavanagh said.

"We spent a lot of time over there and it was beneficial for all the boys I think. It got us to bond together as well."

Kavanagh was runner for the game against the European team.

"It was pretty disappointing not being able to play, but at least I got involved in some way, which was good."

But he did take notice of the story told by Kirk, who became captain of Sydney after being cut from the club's supplementary list early in his career.

"Brett Kirk had to work so hard to get back into the AFL and where he was before. He showed that determination and passion to work as hard as he could to come back and play the game he loved," Kavanagh said. "I found that really inspirational when he told that story."

Lloyd, a former Western Jet who was drafted to Essendon in the 1995 pre-season draft, also spoke to the players about rebounding from injuries.

Kavanagh also sang the praises of Italy's AIS training facility.

"It was like a home away from home. There were cyclists staying there at the same time and everyone was professional in what they did. Everyone was taking it all in and they had a gym, internet access, pool room and good training facilities.

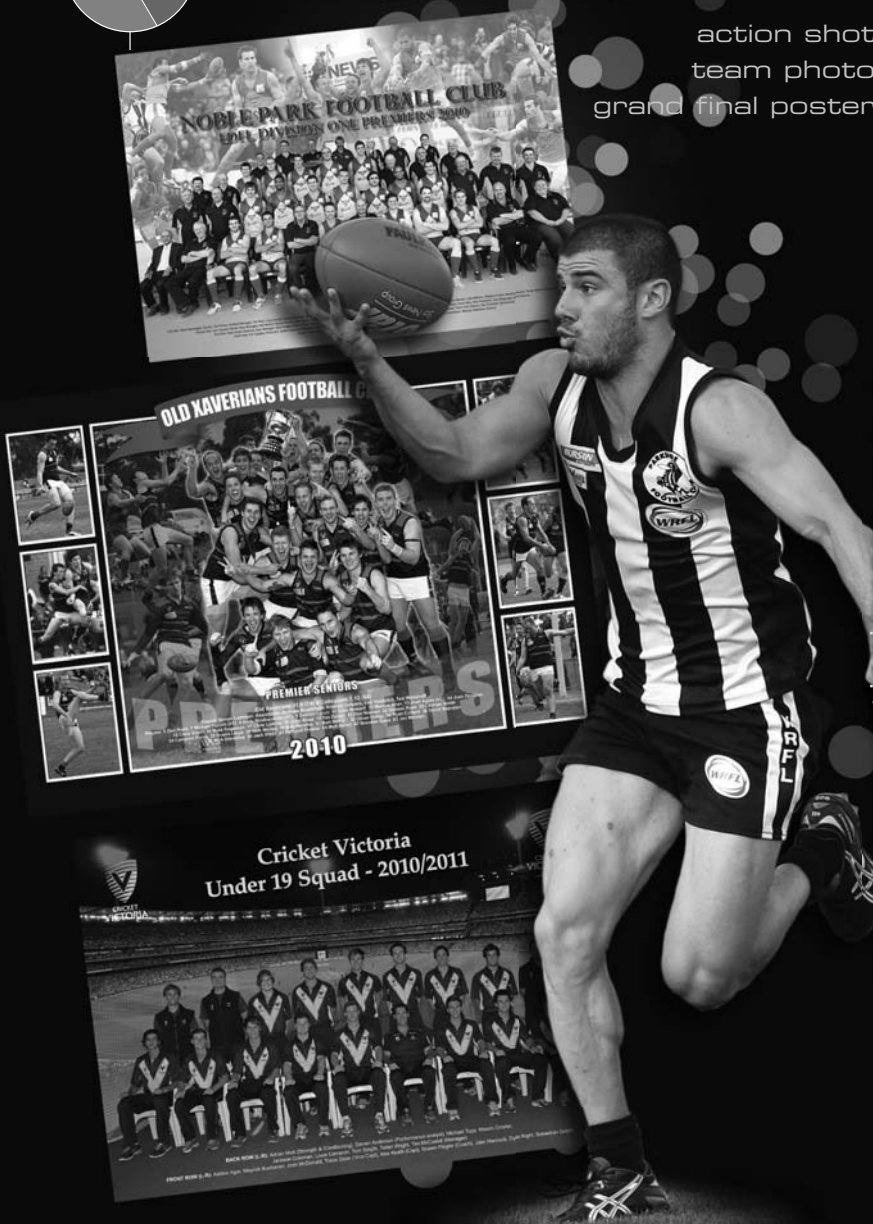

"I'd go and stay over there again if I had to. It was a great experience and we had a meeting room there and that sort of stuff, which was pretty handy for all of us I think."

The 12-month AIS-AFL program is now over and, after playing one game for Vic Metro last year, Kavanagh is again eyeing a spot in the team for this season's under-18 National Championships, which kick off on Sunday. "Hopefully I get a game for Vic Metro and I'll take it from there."

INJURY ENDS STELLAR CAREER

Danny Jacobs Retires From Football

Former AFL footballer Danny Jacobs has signaled an end to his footballing career after suffering a season-ending hamstring injury while playing for the Sunshine Kangaroos.

Jacobs tore his hamstring off the bone against St Albans back in Round Three, and a month into his recovery the Kangaroos have confirmed the former Hawthorn player will not make it back this season and will bow out of the game after a decorated career at both an elite & suburban level.

Danny's brother and Kangaroos coach Brett Jacobs said Danny had no niggles going into the St Albans clash, despite missing the previous game against Altona because of soreness. Previous scans showed no tear in the muscle.

"He trained well week leading into the St Albans game, he felt good in the warm up. It just went in the first quarter," Jacobs said.

"He's retired from footy now."

Danny suffered a similar injury at the Hawks seven years ago.

Sunshine has only had two wins from seven games this year – an early fail mark given its premierships credentials.

But Jacobs has not blamed injuries for Sunshine's underwhelming start to the season.

"Injuries aren't a massive problem at the moment, in the first two weeks we had a few guys out with injuries but since then we've been OK," he said.

"We're not getting the consistency across the board. We're not being blown out of the water in games ... it's just that we're having lapses of concentration, a bad quarter here and there and it's costing us dearly on the scoreboard."

Jacobs has not hit the panic button yet, but acknowledged a review of its goals this season could be on the cards.

Sunshine has had the toughest start to the season, coming up against last year's grand finalists Albion and Spotswood, along with fourth, fifth and sixth-placed teams Port Melbourne, Altona and St Albans.

Sunshine found their way back onto the winners list last weekend against North Footscray, and will continue to try to play catch-up to the rest of the pack this weekend when they host Sunshine Heights.

If they win as expected this weekend, the Round Nine clash against Hoppers Crossing becomes crucial, and with Port Melbourne, Altona and St Albans to follow immediately after the Long Weekend break, Sunshine has no shortage of season-defining matches ahead.

DIVISION TWO (U18)

Proudly Sponsored by Werribee Tigers Football Club

It was billed as the season defining match last round. First versus second. Point Cook versus Deer Park. A winner takes all fixture with the victors to be penciled in as Premiership favourites. However what transpired still leaves many doubts as to which side is on track for Division Two glory. Point Cook were good yet again, and now stretch their unbeaten run to eight games, however Deer Park were definitely not as bad as the five goal margin suggests. Some wayward kicking cost the Lions dearly, especially in the opening term, and despite the home side racking up more shots on goal than the ladder-leaders – it was Point Cook who took the spoils.

Three more sides also showed why this competition is definitely not a two-horse race with fourth-placed Parkside, fifth-placed Albanvale & sixth-placed Wyndhamvale all recording significant wins. All three sides are now just one win behind Deer Park in second, and favourable draws this weekend for two of the sides will mean further jostling for places on the ladder as we approach the mid-season break.

Parkside recorded a 118 point win over St Albans last weekend, and now have the toughest fixture of the three sides as they host Deer Park.

Albanvale have a more favourable draw, and will try to back up their 76 point win over Caroline Springs with a home tie at Altona.

Finally Wyndhamvale, who dealt out a 83-point hiding to the Vikings, should earn another four points at home to the Lakers.

It all means that Hoppers Crossing, who had been sitting comfortably in the top three before last week's bye, could now slip to sixth if other results don't go their way. Add to that it's Point Cook that await for the Warriors this weekend – and one thinks the ladder might look a whole lot different come Saturday evening.

INTERLEAGUE CARNIVAL

Special Feature

The western suburbs' best young footy talent will be on show when the AFL Victorian Metropolitan Junior Championships kick off this month.

The Championships, for Under-14 and Under-15 metro league representative teams, will serve as a method of identifying talent for TAC Cup teams.

For the WRFL players, an impressive interleague campaign could lead to an invitation to train with the Jets and try out for the Under-16 Brad Johnson Squad.

WRFL Under-15 Division One interleague coach Rod Lawson and under-14 Division One coach Gary Brennan both have coaching support roles at the Jets.

Tim Shellcot, the WRFL's Club Development & Operations Officer, said the interleague squad was as much about rewarding juniors for their performance this season as it was providing a pathway to elite competition.

The challenge, he said, was getting the selection process right.

"There's only four or five training sessions to assess the kids," Shellcot said.

"We do trust the clubs to send along their talented kids. The majority of coaches in those squads are working as talent scouts for the Western Jets so they do get out and about on a Sunday to the WRFL junior footy."

"So that makes it a little bit easier to make sure none of those kids slip through the cracks."

Bob Tregear, WRFL Chief Executive Officer, said the Metropolitan Championships were a great chance for juniors to get their first taste of representative football.

"For many of these kids it is the chance to play with, and against, a different group of elite juniors," said Tregear.

"Some will then go on to succeed at TAC Cup & AFL level, and for others it will be the highest level they play at – and something they look back on with fond memories well after their footballing days are over."

Western Region Football League Under-12, Under-13, Under-16 & Under-18 sides will also play fixtures against neighboring leagues over the month long Interleague Carnival.
