From The Editor

We're already well past the halfway mark of Season 2011, and while Deer Park's James Condos is regularly in the headlines for his big hauls in front of goal, there are plenty of other players who are having a significant impact up forward for their respective teams.

In Division One it's Albion's Shaydon Bloomfield leading the way, with the little blonde maestro already reaching the fifty goal milestone. Averaging just under six goals a game, Bloomfield leads Jason Butty of Hoppers Crossing (40 goals) & Romain Grenville (33 goals).

In Division Two it's the James Condos show, with Deer Park's new playing-coach the first senior player nationwide to reach the 100 goal milestone. Condos has 104 goals from just 10 games, and is well ahead of Mohammed Khatabil of Parkside (54 goals) & Dean Cachia of Wyndhamvale (47 goals).

In Division One (U18) young Thomas Jehle of Hoppers Crossing is well ahead of the pack, and en-route to a fifty-plus goal season having kicked 43 goals to date. Trailing him is Corey Irving of Altona (27 goals) & Mahmoud El-Hawli (23 goals).

In Division Two (U18) Point Cook's Zac Foley has already passed that fifty-goal milestone, with the dominant forward kicking 56 majors so far this season. Foley is joined at the top of the leaderboard by Daniel Bartolo of Albanvale (50 goals), with the two more than twenty goals ahead of Dane Thomas of Point Cook (29 goals).

In the 16A competition, Mitchell Parkinson of Williamstown Juniors leads the division's goal-kicking by a solitary major, having amassed 18 goals to date. In the 15A competition Michael Sauro of St Bernards also tops the division's leaderboard by the same small margin, his 28 goals including a six-goal haul against Yarraville back in Round Five.

The 14A competition has Lochlan McDonald of Hoppers Crossing at the top of the leaderboard, his 23 goals also including a six-goal haul against St Bernards back in Round Four. While in the 13A competition Kyle Blake of Yarraville-Seddon has no doubt been the competition's prolific forward, leading the competition with 32 goals to his name.

Full leaderboards for each division are available on the WRFL website, and with only four rounds remaining in the junior competition the race is on to see which youngster will claim their respective division's goal-kicking crown at season's end.

MOLAN RETURNS HOME

Spotswood Lose Prolific Forward

Spotswood has started to get used to mounting a finals campaign without star player Luke Molan.

The prolific goalkicker returned to hometown club Camperdown last week and will play the rest of the season in the Hampden League.

Spotswood coach Chris O'Keefe said Molan returned to the south-east for "personal reasons".

"We knew about it a couple of weeks ago," O'Keefe said.

"He was going to try and stick out the year but just decided that he'll play down there for the rest of the year.

"It's disappointing because he's a terrific guy and he's a very valuable team member, but in saying that we understand he's got to do what's best for him."

Young up-and-comer Matt Taylor, who kicked three goals in Spotswood's 36-point win against Port Melbourne last weekend and could be the one to step up and try to cover the void left by Molan, who kicked 32 goals in ten games for the Woodsmen this year.

"Matt Taylor in last month or so has been a bit of an understudy... so it's an opportunity for him to step up now," O'Keefe said.

"He's been progressing really well. It's been good to get plenty of senior games into him this year and his confidence is just growing each week.

"It's really pleasing to see a kid come out of the juniors and continue to impress, and he's going to be a real player of the future."

The loss of Molan is no doubt a disappointment to the Woodsmen, and adds another chapter in the intriguing career of a player who's path in football has been far from conventional.

The 192-centimetre big man went number nine in the 'Super Draft' of 2001, and while his peers have gone on to win Premierships, Brownlow medals and still to this day play for big pay cheques, Molan has ended up coping a battering and bruising at all levels of footy and has found himself playing out his dwindling football career in the suburban leagues.

After being drafted by Melbourne at number nine in the 2001 draft, Molan's career has been anything but straight-forward.

- He moved to Melbourne in 2002 and was billeted with 'an amazing family', the father of which had cancer, and was in remission. The disease returned, and he died a few months later.

- He broke his leg so badly playing VFL for Sandringham that he finished up kneeling despite the sole of his foot being flat on the ground – and did not play again in the 2002 season.

- He missed five weeks in early 2003 with a cartilage tear then, mid-season, dived to spoil a mark at North Ballarat. In one lunge, he broke his collarbone, was concussed, and ruptured his anterior cruciate ligament upon hitting the ground. Season over, he was delisted.
- He was drafted back to Melbourne as a rookie in 2004, and came back through the Sandringham reserves, eventually returning to the seniors, but was cut at the end of the season.
- He attended Troy and Trisha Broadbridge's wedding, and was the last Melbourne player to farewell his teammate at night's end. Eight days later, Broadbridge was killed in the Boxing Day tsunami while on his honeymoon.
- He was recruited to Frankston in the VFL and broke his leg again in a practice match. Was plagued by hamstring injuries upon his return, and could manage no more than four or five games in a row in two seasons.

Molan used to wonder if he was cursed.

"For a while I thought I'd done something wrong somewhere," he once told reporters.

He was bitter, and struggled to watch the other young men with the 'Super Draft' tag living their dreams, rather than waking, cold with sweat, in the middle of the night. However losing Broadbridge, with whom he had shared many long, frustrating days in the detached yet bonding world of footy rehab, made him realise there was much more to life.

"It woke me out of my stupor, I suppose," he said.

"For him to be taken away like that, it totally changes your life."

Molan is back home in Camperdown now, where his career started over a decade ago. As a sixteen year-old he would bus in from Warrnambool, with the likes of teammates Brent Moloney & Luke Hodge who also hailed from the western district.

In those days he wouldn't get home until 11pm, and it was a sacrifice that he and his family were willing to take to make it at the elite level. At that stage Geelong and Hawthorn were keen to get him, however Melbourne ended up taking him earlier than all expected. A week later he moved into a Murrumbeena house, and still marvels at the strength of those who lived there.

"The father was like the mum of the house. He was always home when I was home. For six months he was like my best mate," he said

Molan was 'almost fit' when he arrived at Melbourne, just getting over a medial ligament strain suffered the week before the TAC Cup finals. By Christmas he was into it 'full-on', and settling in well. Fellow new boys Aaron Rogers, Steven Armstrong, Brad Miller and Mark Jamar were his mates; the Demons did not draft a single player from metropolitan Melbourne that year.

"I was the closest, and I was three hours away," he said.

He played two Wizard Cup games and two practice games, without getting much of the ball, and then went back to Sandy, and found some rhythm. Then, seven or eight rounds in, he explains, 'it all started to happen'.

Playing against Murray Kangaroos, his leg broke horrifically.

"The ankle can only bend so far," he said as he returned from Albury on the team bus, leg in plaster.

Still he believed it was all ahead of him, and was ready to go again come the pre-season. A cartilage tear was a setback, but by round nine or ten the coaches were making positive noises, telling him he was pushing his name forward. At North Ballarat, playing full-forward and zoning to defend a kick-in, he made that fateful, three-in-one lunge. He's seen video footage, and it actually doesn't look too bad. Initially, a scan cleared him of knee damage, but the doctor sent him to a surgeon to make sure.

"He took one look and asked how bad it was," he said.

"I told him it was five to six weeks, and he said, 'It'll be a year. You're having a full knee reconstruction.' "

It was devastating, not least because Molan lived in an apartment on St Kilda Road, and from his balcony could see Melbourne training on the Junction Oval below. A different teammate would wear his jumper every day.

"They tried to keep me involved, felt sorry for me after what I'd been through."

He says the club was fantastic, rookie-listing him for 2004 so he could start pre-season walking laps of Trevor Barker Oval, bouncing a football, while the fit and able ran 200's in the middle. He was told there could be no rookies the following year for financial reasons, and was further disappointed when the club took two on anyway.

However all he had been through paled into insignificance the following year when he saw first-hand what having a truly tough time was like.

"I was living in Ringwood with my sister and travelling to Frankston to play football," he said.

"Trish Broadbridge was living in Cheltenham and said I could move in there."

Only months had passed since an unthinkable tragedy, but her strength lifted Molan's spirits.

"She's an amazing woman. What she went through and to come out how she has, and do the things she does."

He went to Frankston hoping a change of scenery would change his luck, and maybe, just maybe, an AFL lifeline would be thrown his way. But his body betrayed him again, and the desire left him. He'd had enough.

By now he was living in Newport, and when Spotswood asked what it would take for him to play, he told them money wasn't important. He'd done a personal training course while at Frankston, but had scant experience of the world beyond football medical rooms, and occasionally grounds.

"I said, 'I don't care, just find me a job and I'll play.' "

And after over two successful seasons which included the 2009 Premiership, and another strong start to this year with 32 goals to his name, Molan has now returned home to the Hampden League.

It has come as a shock to many around the league that such a prolific and successful player could 'walk out' on a club that look poised for another successful tilt at a premiership in 2011.

But you only have to realize what this big man has been through in the past decade, and you have to concede that after ten years trying to make it in Melbourne, his return home is probably a little overdue.

DIVISION ONE

By Leigh Eustace

Port Colts got close but not close enough last Saturday, now it's Altona's turn to see if they can join Albion as legitimate challengers to Spotswood in 2011.

The Vikings are seemingly comfortable in third but will be giving their all to take down the Woodsmen when they travel to the banks of Cherry Lake.

Will it be another Spotswood and Albion affair come the end of the season, or can Altona genuinely throw their hat in the ring? All will be revealed by five o'clock this arvo.

As for the Cats, they face a tricky trip over the Westgate to face Port Colts who slipped to fifth after falling short to Spotswood seven days ago.

Albion were probably in the finish fortuitous to avoid a loss to a gallant Hoppers Crossing and come away with points shared, and any loss for the Cats at this stage is disappointing, so they need to get back on the winner's list this week.

A draw is always funny to recover from so Albion will need to start well as their opponents will be doubly keen to put in a good performance. The Vikings will be out to impress against the other 2010 grand finalist this week, and more importantly will want to ensure they can keep in the five most importantly.

The Warriors are snapping at the heels of the five and following a draw at Albion last week when they really should have won, host North Footscray who were less than impressive after losing to Sunshine Heights.

Hoppers are in good touch but the Red Devils will be dirty from last Saturday so it'll be important for the home team to not take their performance last round, and their opponents lightly.

Sunshine Heights, buoyed from last week's rare win, have the even rarer chance to go two from two when they entertain Glenorden, whereas St Albans are eyeing off third when they take on Sunshine at home.

POINTS SHARED

Warriors Stun Cats

The thrilling draw between Hoppers Crossing and Albion was one of several intriguing results last round.

The scores were locked at 10.16 (76) apiece at the final siren in a see-sawing battle.

The Warriors got the jump on the Cats and were 11 points up at quarter-time but Albion went in to half-time with a three-point lead, then extended it to 13 points at the last break.

But Hoppers Crossing refused to give in and displayed a new-found determination that has been on full display since the Warriors were embarrassed by Spotswood in round seven.

Jason Butty continued his superb season and kicked four goals in what was the first draw of the season.

It could turn out to be a vital two points for the Warriors, who are sixth on the ladder but are now just half a game behind Port Melbourne.

The Warriors have proven to be a tough matchup for the Cats, who have shown to have the measure of most other clubs. Albion defeated Hoppers crossing by five points in round two.

Altona's 17-point win against Sunshine was crucial to its quest to be a top-three team.

The Vikings set the win up with a 5.5 (35) to 0.0 (0) first quarter against the struggling Kangaroos.

An under-strength Sunshine showed character to restrict Altona to three goals in the second half and kick six of its own, but it was always playing catch-up.

Sunshine remains stranded in seventh spot with three wins, and a finals berth is all but a lost cause.

Spotswood bounced back from its first loss of the season last week with a hard-fought 18.24 (132) to 14.12 (96) win against Port Melbourne. A high-scoring is almost always predictable against the Colts who have the second leakiest defence among the top seven teams and are the second highest scorers.

Port Melbourne gave Spotswood a fright after being three goals up at half-time, but Spotswood exhibited its ability to score goals quickly and kicked 10 goals in the third quarter to overrun Port Melbourne.

Sunshine Heights recorded its second and most satisfying victory of the season, against North Footscray. The Dragons defeated the Devils 11.11 (77) to 7.14 (56).

Sunshine kicked five goals to one in the first quarter to have a handy lead, but North Footscray challenged the Dragons in the second quarter, cutting the margin to two goals at the main break.

But the Dragons showed character to wrest back control in the third quarter and hold on to a morale-boosting win.

St Albans had no trouble against bottom side Glenorden under caretaker coach Justin Menzel after the club parted ways with Jason Fastuca. The Saints won a predictably one-sided game 28.29 (197) to 1.8 (14). Aaron Henneman kicked 11 goals.

SCHOOL SPORT SUCCESS

Local Players Selected In Victorian Squad

Maribyrnong Secondary College is celebrating an outstanding achievement from five of their students, who have been selected in this year's School Sport Victoria Metropolitan Football Squad.

Pele Manivong, Touk Miller, Ricky Schraven, Dillion Viojo-Rainbow and Peter Wright, will travel to Canberra in July to represent Victoria in the under-15 division.

Wright, who has been selected as a bottom-age player, believes the experience the boys already have playing together will be beneficial to the team's chance of winning.

"We will know whether they kick on the left foot or right foot or where they usually kick to. It will be good for us," Wright said.

The competition has been a great career launching pad for some of the AFL's best players including Chris Judd, Luke Ball and Jobe Watson. A number of potential draftees will be competing this year.

"It's good to know that we're on the right track and doing similar things to what they've done," Wright said.

The boys from Maribyrnong will be joined by five other juniors, Damien Cavka (Catholic Regional College), Corey Ellis (Essendon Keilor College), Nicholas O'Kearney (Parade College), Zac Wunhym (Overnewton Anglican Community College) & Luke Pulitano (Caroline Springs Secondary College).

All the successful players were originally nominated by their schools in April and attended tryouts. A preliminary squad of 60 was released and then, after a number of practice games, the final 25-player squad was named.

The competition involves state teams from all over Australia competing against each other. They will be split into pools for preliminary rounds and then will progress to finals.

At the end of the tournament an All-Australia team will be announced, consisting of the best players over the event. This team will travel to South Africa and take part in an international competition.

The championships will also provide players with an opportunity to showcase their abilities in front of talent scouts. With matches being played in the backyard of the AFL's newest franchise, Greater Western Sydney, Pele Manivong Snr, who is the father of Manivong, believes there could be some high profile onlookers.

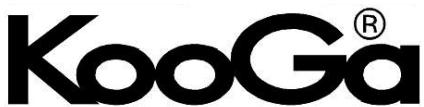

"Because it's in Canberra, we are thinking Kevin Sheedy might be there as part of his work with GWS," Manivong Snr said.

For the selected boys it's a great acknowledgment of the effort they put into football. Most of them are training at least three times per week and hold aspirations of playing AFL one day.

"It's a great reward for effort, he works really hard. He eats, breathes and lives footy. He doesn't even eat junk food," Manivong Snr said.

The team will begin training together in preparation for the event in the coming weeks before the championships begin in late July.

DIVISION TWO

By Leigh Eustace

It's all set up for Parkside to spoil the party. Deer Park, sitting at eleven from eleven, with a percentage nudging 400, head to the Merv Hughes Oval to take on perhaps their toughest challenge yet.

The Magpies have strung together seven wins in a row and are in much better shape to take on the premiership favourites compared to when they were comprehensively embarrassed by the Lions in Round Two in an 18 goal loss.

No matter how good Deer Park actually are, a perfect season is as good as impossible, and Parkside will be looking to make this week 'the week' for the all conquering league leaders.

Either way, win or lose, we'll see how serious Parkside are as a finals contender, and if they can indeed challenge when it matters.

A clash of great intrigue will also be battled out west when the sixth-placed Wyndhamvale, desperate to get into the five, take on fourth-placed Yarraville-Seddon, desperate to stay in the five.

The Eagles weren't too bad despite defeat at the hands of Deer Park last Saturday but the Falcons are a direct competitor, a side of similar ambition, and only percentage separates both sides.

Yet one gets the feeling one of the two clubs may end up missing out on post-season action so this is an eight-point game in the truest sense.

West Footscray meanwhile host Albanvale, the Cobras are as expected white-hot, the Roosters though will be looking to rebound strongly after losing to Coburg Districts last week, they sit in seventh and the prospects of finals action are diminishing.

Elsewhere Laverton visit Caroline Springs, looking for a pulse to their finals hopes, a win keeps the Magpies with a glimmer of hope, whilst Braybrook head to Coburg Districts.

RESULTS

Braybrook 16.7-103 def.
Caroline Springs 13.17-95

Coburg Districts 11.19-85 def.
West Footscray 7.11-53

Laverton Magpies 11.10-76 def. by Parkside 16.16-112

North Sunshine 2.2-14 def. by Wyndhamvale 23.24-162

Yarraville Seddon Eagles 8.14-62 def. by Deer Park 14.13-97

SEAGULLS READY FOR BATTLE ROYAL

Foxtel Cup Semi-Final Showdown

After Williamstown's win against the Northern Bullants attention now turns to the Foxtel Cup Semi Final against the East Perth Royals. Williamstown will be playing at home in the Foxtel Cup for the first time in the competition after road trips to Perth and Adelaide in the first two rounds. The match is being played at Etihad Stadium on Saturday, starting at 5:05pm. In a bonus to Seagulls supporters and football fans in general, admission to the game is free of charge which provides supporters a great chance to watch the Gulls and get close to the action at Etihad Stadium.

Williamstown heads into the Semi-Final clash having had two convincing wins against WAFL reigning premiers Swan Districts in Round 1 and SANFL surprise packet West Adelaide in the quarter final. Meanwhile East Perth overcame triple VFL reigning premiers North Ballarat in Round 1 of the Foxtel Cup, before claiming a gutsy victory against the Northern Territory Thunder in Darwin in their quarter final. The match promises to be another classic contest between two proud football clubs with a spot in the inaugural Foxtel Cup Grand Final the prize for the victor.

It will be business as usual for the home side as their preparations won't differ from a normal VFL game. "We've been tracking East Perth for the last few weeks and will prepare our usual opposition analysis." Williamstown Football Manager Chris Dixon explained. "We're expecting a tough contest from a side that will be desperate to win this competition."

Dixon also stated it was a great chance for all Williamstown, Western Bulldogs and Victorian football fans in general to see the action first hand. "This will be only the second Foxtel Cup game in Melbourne and its fantastic the AFL has decided to make it free admission. It's a chance for supporters to get close to the action at Etihad Stadium and see a great footy contest. The Grand Final on the 6th August will be played interstate in either Western Australia or South Australia depending on who wins the other Semi Final between Claremont and Port Adelaide Magpies which will be played on the 16th July".

"We'd encourage as many people to come down to Etihad Stadium this Saturday as we aim to do the VFL and Victorian football proud and hopefully progress to the Grand Final."

Due to the jumper clash between the two teams, Williamstown will be wearing an alternative strip that has been approved by the Williamstown Football Club.

The Foxtel Cup Semi-Final between Williamstown & East Perth is on Saturday 9th July at Etihad Stadium. Gates open at 4.00pm, with first bounce at 5.05pm. Supporters are to enter via Gate 2.

A LIFETIME BOND

Dean McGrath (Wilson Security)

Football is a sport which brings people together, strengthens communities and can have a long lasting effect over the lives of those who are involved with it.

Wilson Security Operations Manager, Dean McGrath, knows all too well of this effect, as he has been involved with the Western Region Football League for many years at both a personal and professional level.

McGrath first developed his passion for AFL football when he was 18 years old, playing for Albion in 1980, and getting his first taste of what was then the FDFL. During his time at Albion, he also played in three Senior Premierships in 1985, 1988 and 1994.

Over the journey, McGrath has been associated with many clubs including Hoppers Crossing, Ballan FC, Sunshine YCW, Romsey FC, and Albavale.

“Playing in the WRFL and meeting so many different people and seeing them later in life is great. It also has been great from an achievement point of view to have been a part of premiership sides.” McGrath said.

Although being a player for nearly 18 years, McGrath has also tried his hand at coaching, becoming involved with the Caroline Springs FC, coaching the Under-14 B side to their first premiership in 2008, and also coaching the Under-16 side in 2009 and 2010.

“I have coached at Caroline Springs for the last three years and there is some very good talent. There are numerous representatives of CSFC in the Western Jets development sides and some who are currently playing in the TAC Cup this season.”

Despite his personal involvement with the league as both a player and a coach, Dean McGrath is now giving back the support the WRFL provided him throughout his football career, this time at a sponsorship level.

Wilson Security has been associated with the WRFL for five years, and is proud to be one of its major partners, as they provide the league with security services during the finals campaign.

Since his association with the company, Wilson Security has increased their sponsorship considerably thanks to McGrath’s involvement with the league and the company’s local community focus, as their support plays an important role in the smooth operations on game days.

Wilson Security is not only limited to security guarding services, but mobile patrols, armed guarding, and technology/system protection, and are also heavily relied on in the Government sector with large contracts seen at both State and Federal levels.

As Operations Manager of the company, McGrath ensures that not only players, coaches and umpires are protected, but the spectators are safe too.

“We all have a responsibility to ensure players and spectators support their local teams, and are accepting of the umpire’s decisions, whether they think it’s right or wrong.”

“Back when I played, whilst we didn’t always agree with their decisions, they played an important part of managing the game and the safety of players. If we don’t treat the umpires with respect then we won’t have them, it’s as simple as that.” McGrath said.

UMPIRES CORNER

By Graeme Hodgart

In every club or association there are always a handful (or more) of characters who, with their extravagant mannerisms or peculiar features or unusual traits, tend to stand out from the crowd. They may be overly loud or extremely humorous or more gullible than others or seemingly very accident prone. Their interesting antics or outlandish verbal statements or radical actions or even their non-actions speak volumes about their very existence. These all help to fill in and maintain whatever reputation they have built up over the years. Often, these are done quite unintentionally but there are definite times when some of these individuals take advantage of the situation to ensure that they are noticed and don't blend in with the rest of the fodder. Well, at least not too much!

The WRFL Umpires' Association is no different from any of the local football clubs. There are certain characters that are well known around the traps and have helped develop the culture of the WRFL. Some clubs may want to jump up and down and point to certain individuals and bag them for their decision making out on the field but it's behind the scenes that some of the characters stand out.

Andrew Borg was given the nickname of Tickets because of his persistent cry of "Tickets! Tickets!" each Wednesday in his bid to try to sell a few raffle tickets at Scovell Reserve. Unfortunately injury problems, mainly with his shoulders, have curtailed his goal umpiring career. This has meant that over the past couple of years others have had to sing out his catch-cry, including accent, every Wednesday. It's great that Andrew still calls into the umpires' enclave every so often to say hello.

There are others who will be briefly mentioned: Graham Field, with his distinctive running style;

Alan Pascoe, with his dry sense of humour at any time of the day or night; Dean Portelli, who never beats around the bush and tells you exactly like it is; Allan Larrad, who loves to talk and talk and talk; John Sutton and Bob Wallace, who are proud grandfathers waving flags whenever they can. There are many who were not mentioned due to the absence of both time and space.

The list may be endless but the bottom line is the same. Each of the members of the WRFL Umpires' Association brings their own special brand of commitment, humour and input into the local football league. Some may stay for years and some may only visit for a short while but, overall, they combine to create a strong and vibrant association that continues to introduce men and women, boys and girls into the business of umpiring. Hopefully each game is but a stepping stone to a bigger and brighter future for all concerned: umpires, players, club officials and spectators.

DIVISION ONE (U18)

Proudly Sponsored by Werribee Tigers Football Club

Hoppers Crossing have maintained their lead at the top of the Division One ladder despite a rare scare away at Albion. In a match that should have been decided by quarter time, the Cats put up a gallant fight leading for most of the game before falling just one point short.

On the surface it is a result that should really open up the Division One competition. Maybe the all-conquering Warriors aren't as infallible as once thought? Maybe Albion are better than their three wins suggest? Or maybe the Warriors, confident of a win, interchanged a number of players between their Division One & Division Two sides? On the basis that the club's seconds knocked off second-placed Deer Park down in Division Two, maybe the latter is the most likely. In the weekend's other games, Sunshine Heights recorded just their second win of the season against the winless North Footscray, while Altona showed just how impressive their club's junior structure is, smashing Sunshine by 127 points.

This weekend Hoppers Crossing should continue to set the pace at the top of the table, taking on North Footscray in a game that could have two results. Either the Warriors play a full strength line-up, and post a thirty plus goal victory, or they play an under-strength side and record a twenty plus goal win. Given their seconds are also taking on a lowly ranked side, this weekend might be an ugly one for the Red Devils, and should see Warriors' forward Thomas Jehle notch up goal number fifty for the season.

Elsewhere Spotswood will be out to prove that they should be considered in the top three sides in the competition when they travel to second placed Altona. At this stage they're considered a peg below the Warriors, Vikings & Saints, however if there was ever a time to step up and prove their credentials it is surely this weekend.

In the final game of the round St Albans host Sunshine, and for the Saints even if it is a one-sided affair it could prove an important game when the season draws to a close. While Altona look like they have second spot all but stitched up, the Vikings do finish with two byes, so any in-roads the Saints can make on second spot the better. We expect both sides to share similar win-loss ratios at seasons' end, so even if the Saints have the upper hand early in this weekend's fixture they really need to keep going and target posting a percentage-boosting win.

A TRUE TEAM PLAYER

Will Martinello Leads 'Player Of The Year' Award

When Werribee coach Paul Satterley addresses his players during a match, he will invariably mention the tackle count and use it a barometer of how his side is performing.

This season, Will Martinello, more than any other player, has produced the type of relentless football Satterley has insisted on.

Martinello has become the master of the one-percenter in an era where the one-percenter has a far greater value, given the rise of the forward press.

The 21-year-old is leading Werribee Football Club's player-of-the-year award, which tallies players' individual tackles, spoils, smothers and shepherds.

He heads the award in front of vice-captain Robbie Castello and captain Dominic Gleeson.

Martinello said he has relished his more prominent role in the midfield this season.

"I had a talk to Satts at the start of the year. He wanted me to become one of those permanent midfielders in the team and at the moment I'm doing that so I'm pretty happy with that so far," he said.

"I always just try to do the team things. Satts is always pushing that side of the game, that workmanlike game style we have at times. I always like to get my tackles up."

With Satterley introducing a game plan that is based on AFL affiliate North Melbourne's, the application of perceived pressure has become even more important.

"The whole team took a while to adapt to it at the start of the year but I think we're all getting used to it," Martinello said.

"The backline is getting used to their game style and I think it works well, and personally I enjoy it too."

Especially when you go up forward you get to play a bit more up the ground."

Martinello said Satterley signing on as a full-time coach had been a significant factor in Werribee's new lease of life, after last season yielded just four wins.

Martinello has been one of Werribee's most consistent players since joining the club in 2009, to the point that he is often mentioned in the same breath as long-serving club men Gleeson and Castello, despite his relatively young career at Werribee.

"It feels like I've been here for longer than three years already I reckon," he said.

The boy from north-eastern Victoria came to the Tigers from TAC Cup side Murray Bushrangers and said moving from the country and leaving his family was a daunting experience. But the club helped him get a full-time job and Martinello is now sharing a house in Tarneit with three other teammates and fellow country boys Bradley Mangan, Farren Priest and Nathan Laracy.

A LIFETIME COMMITMENT

David Stretton Earns Williamstown Life Membership

Playing just three senior games in his first two years of VFL never deterred David Stretton.

In 2007, his single-minded ambition to become a permanent member of Williamstown's first team started to come to fruition, and he has since become one of a handful of players who can truly be regarded as the heart and soul of the Seagulls' playing list.

Stretton is the first player to benefit from Williamstown's new criteria for life-membership.

On 18 July against Frankston, Stretton played his 130th game for the club (83 senior and 46 reserves), automatically making him a life-member of the club.

"The footy club's been my life for the last seven years so to be recognised as a life member is massive for me and its massive honour. It means a lot to me," he said.

Stretton remembered how tough it was to break into the senior side, but never considered throwing it in and playing local footy, even though he probably could have earned more money doing so.

"I've always taken my footy pretty seriously and I thought I'm not going to leave without giving it a fair-dinkum crack, and at least see if I can play at that level. I wasn't going to leave without giving every little bit of energy towards it," he said. "I probably wasn't ready to play senior footy in my first year (2005) down there. In my second year I was probably doing enough to warrant selection but with the alignment with Collingwood it was pretty hard numbers-wise to get in. You've only got six or seven Williamstown players who were playing at the time. I had to bide my time and grit my teeth and know that eventually a spot was going to open up for me."

Stretton, a member of Williamstown's leadership group, again had to display immense perseverance and patience last year after breaking his collarbone in round 15, when the Seagulls were flying.

"It was pretty devastating at the time," he said. "I was thinking last year it could be our big chance of finally getting a premiership. Watching the boys play the last six or seven games was quite hard. It was a good mental challenge for me to stay involved and try and play my part."

History shows the premiership was not to be. Williamstown failed at the penultimate stage, continuing a recent history of under-performing in finals.

The Seagulls are again in the mix this season, sitting second with nine wins and two losses, but have lost to perhaps the two likeliest challengers, the undefeated Port Melbourne and premiers North Ballarat.

"I think we've definitely got what it takes but we've just got to stick to what we know and to our structures, otherwise in big games we can fall to pieces," Stretton said.

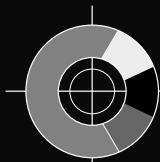

"When we get put under pressure that's when we've got to rely on those things to get us over the line. We've got the players on the park to beat any side on our day, but we need to put together in the important part of the year which we haven't been able to do yet."

Stretton listed close mate Ben Davies, Ben Jolley and captain Brett Johnson as long-serving players he felt privileged to have played with.

"Ben Jolley is one of the most courageous blokes I've ever played with, and you can't look further than the captain. He's an inspirational leader. Some of the stuff he brings to the table ... he's a bloke you just want to hang around and learn off, because he's been there and done it."

Stretton said representing Victoria against the SANFL in Adelaide in 2008 was one of his biggest highlights so far. But he said a VFL premiership would no doubt surpass that.

MULTICULTURAL FOOTBALL IN THE WEST

Bulldogs Host Annual AMES Football Carnival

The Western Bulldogs Football Club has held the Fourth Annual Inter-AMES (Adult Multicultural Education Services) Football Carnival – which has seen over 100 male and female students from countries such as Burma, Vietnam, Ethiopia, Poland, India and Sudan participate in football matches.

The carnival follows a six-week introduction to football program where ambassadors at AMES centres worked with newly arrived students to Australia and help them learn skills both on and off the field, which will assist them in day-to-day Australian life.

Coinciding with Refugee Week, the program aimed to teach participants about the basics of Australian culture through Australian Rules.

Students are given the opportunity to interact with others in a similar position to them. They can improve their English through social interaction with students from other classes and centres as well as learn life skills through teamwork during matches.

Nish Moses, who is the AFL Multicultural Development Officer, said participants enjoyed learning the skills of AFL.

“A few participants have inquired about joining local footy clubs after the program was over,” Moses said.

We had one guy come through who was from Afghanistan and wanted to keep playing. We were able to direct him to a local club.”

This year has seen the program continue to grow with the Metropolitan Fire Brigade signing on as a major sponsor.

The MFB have added to the education of players by providing a fire safety seminar as part of their work with the program. Together with the Western Bulldogs, they also sponsored the provision of special Western Bulldogs jumpers for the players to wear.

A number of past participants are returning in coaching roles to help work with participants by giving them the benefit of their experiences in the program. Moses said it was a great aspect to have former students coming back in a coaching capacity.

“That is something that we set out to achieve when we were first setting it up,” Moses said.

The results of this year’s carnival were close in both and men’s and women’s matches.

In the women’s, St Albans vs Footscray 2.3 (15) defeated Werribee vs Sunshine 0.3 (3), with Seenual Pongbannai named best on ground for the winners.

In the men’s match, Werribee vs Sunshine 2.8 (20) defeated Footscray vs St Albans 3.1 (19) in a nail-biting encounter.

Players involved in the matches were presented with trophies by Bulldogs’ player Daniel Giansiracusa, who is the AFL’s national multicultural programs ambassador.

DIVISION TWO (U18)

Proudly Sponsored by Werribee Tigers Football Club

Hoppers Crossing provided one of the season's biggest upsets last weekend, knocking off second placed Deer Park in what was a largely one-sided affair. The Warriors slammed on six goals to none in a scintillating first twenty minutes of football, and continued on in the second & third terms to restrict the Lions to just one major in the opening three quarters of football. The final term saw Deer Park get a little bit of respect on the board, however the result does throw open the competition – well at least from second spot down.

The question many were asking was how many players from the Warriors' Division One side ran around for the two's on the weekend – and subsequently when finals restrictions come in at the business end of the season, will the Warriors actually be legitimate contenders for the Division Two crown?

Albanvale now move ahead of Deer Park into second after a comfortable 95-point win over cellar-dwellers St Albans, while Point Cook now extend their lead at the top of the table to three games after running out 38-point winners at Wyndhamvale. The Bulldogs had the points secured early in the piece, with the Falcons showing a bit of fight in a six goal to two final term to put some respectability back on the board.

This weekend there are few games that will provide any more clarity on where each of the top sides stand, with Point Cook playing seventh placed Altona, Albvale sporting the bye, Deer Park hosting the winless St Albans & Hoppers Crossing travelling to eighth placed Caroline Springs.

With easy wins likely for all higher ranked sides, it leaves the one game of interest this weekend the Parkside & Wyndhamvale fixture. Plenty is on the line in this game as both sides sit on 24 points and in fifth & sixth respectively. Both sides are far enough off fourth, and well above seventh-placed Altona, that fifth place, and a spot in the finals, will be decided between these two sides. The team that wins this weekend will no doubt claim ascendancy in this battle for a finals berth, and despite Parkside taking the four points earlier in the season this game could come down to the final kick of the day.

MARK OF THE YEAR

The Best Of The Rest

A fortnight ago the WRFL Footy Record labeled young Harley Weston-Armstrong's hanger against Albion as the 'Mark Of The Year' so far. It was one of the best grabs we'd seen captured in a junior fixture for some time, courtesy of budding photographer Terry Lee.

However punters were quick to put forward their views on the best marks so far this season, with some excellent action shots coming in thick and fast from across both junior & senior divisions.

David Newtown, Footy Operations Manager for the WRFL, showed his versatility behind the lens capturing Albion's Romain Grenville as he got horizontal in the Cats' Round One fixture against Spotswood at Parsons Reserve. With a cricketing background, you can tell Grenville has spent plenty of time in the slips over the years, and his two handed grab is one of the best action shots we've seen for the year.

John Heron, of the Yarraville Seddon Football Club, snapped Adam Baker taking a seat on his North Sunshine Opponent's shoulder back in Round Eight on a quiet day for the forward who slotted a measly 13 goals to go with his 'Mark Of The Year' Nomination. Bringing back memories of Gary Ablett Senior sitting on Garry Pert's shoulders well over a decade ago, Baker held it a little longer than the Geelong legend did that day and is one of the frontrunners for this year's best grab.

The team from Cyan Sporting Images were capturing the action from the Interleague Carnival last month, and were kept busy by the versatile Tyler Crennan who was impressive both in the air and at ground level. In this shot Crennan pulls down a finger-tip grab that wasn't even there to be taken. It wasn't the only magic moment from the Werribee Centrals youngster, who by all accounts is one of the league's leading junior players.

Werribee Football Club hosts the Casey Scorpions this weekend, which also marks the beginning of a new era with the launch of the Women's Football Circle - a new coterie group for ladies only. The brainchild of some very passionate Tigers supporters the aim of the group is to have a female presence at the club and conduct events that appeal past pure football activities. The group also aims to raise funds which will be used on improvements to the clubs facilities. The launch this Saturday will take the place of the regular President's lunch and a ladies only luncheon will be held upstairs at Avalon Airport Oval. There will be a decadent high tea, pampering stations, reading and tastings. There will be two guest speakers on the day, Australian netball star Renea Hallahan and Councillor Heather Marcus. Two very successful women with great stories to tell of their achievements.

Sunshine Football Club is saddened to announce the passing of Martin Lang, single father & sole carer of Ehlana, Tika-Moon, Zhakrin & Ky. Lang passed away last week and was a great shock to all at the club, and in particular those in the teams of his sons Zhakrin (U14) & Ky (U9). Lang's mother Marie & sisters Michelle & Anne Maree are doing a wonderful job in making sure the kids are well cared for. The club has decided to assist the family in their time of need and will be taking up a collection in their father's honour. If you have anything you can donate to either the Lang Family please email the Sunshine club secretary, Jan Schwartz (secretary@sunshinekangaroos.com.au). The club is also holding a number of silent auctions throughout this month on their website. The club thanks all families who are already assisting with the care & nurturing of Zhak & Ky during this difficult time & until arrangements are made with the childrens' extended family.

Williamstown Football Club was saddened last week to hear the news that long time Williamstown supporters / volunteers Betty McTaggart and George Wilson passed away. The Williamstown Senior side wore black arm bands during last round's game against the Northern Bullants at Preston as a mark of respect for both the McTaggart and Wilson families. Our thoughts are with Betty's son Phil and George's wife June at this difficult time.
