COMMUNITY SPIRIT

By Cam Nation

With every season of football comes plenty of disappointment, as the majority of teams fall by the wayside in pursuit of the ultimate prize. In reality every season ends with hundreds of unsatisfied players in every division, and only an elite two-dozen who have premierships medals to match their life-long memories of that final day of the season.

However for a group of under-12's in the Western Region Football League, that disappointment of losing a knockout final was heightened when it occurred at no fault of their own. In what can only be described as an on-field mix-up, the Wyndhamvale Under-12 side led by 21 points in the dying stages of their Preliminary Final match when a player count was called. The umpire in charge noted both sides had eighteen players on the park as per the rules, however just minutes earlier a Falcons player had unknowingly been sent from the field (with rules stating that player cannot be replaced for fifteen minutes), and subsequently their score was reset as the final siren sounded. It was a devastating mix-up for the boys involved and for the side who many had tipped would go all the way in 2011.

Upon hearing of the mix-up, the Western Bulldogs asked the Western Region Football League if they could provide the boys some better memories from the 2011 season than those endured the week before, and invited the team down to Whitten Oval to train with the Western Bulldogs Development

Squad. Aimed at lifting the team's spirits, the youngsters were given the chance to run out onto the pristine surface at Whitten Oval, and join the likes of NAB Rising Star nominee Luke Dahlhaus for a training session.

The bond between the Bulldogs and the boys was so strong on the night, that the club also invited the Falcons under-12's along to Etihad Stadium last Saturday to celebrate Barry Hall's final game in the red, white & blue.

Western Region Football League CEO, Bob Tregear, said it was a great initiative by the Bulldogs who had gone above & beyond in helping raise the spirits of the boys. Tregear said he was hopeful the experience would show the youngsters that sportsmanship is alive and well at all levels of the game.

"By supporting the Wyndhamvale Falcons under-12's, the Western Bulldogs have shown the boys that there are always positives that can come out of any situation," said Tregear.

"In a week where the Bulldogs are no doubt focusing on their final game of Season 2011, it is great to see the club still recognizes their role in the community and has been more than willing to assist these boys end their season on a positive note."

CATS WIN THRILLER

Albion Secures Grand Final Berth

Albion is the first team through to the WRFL Division One Grand Final after edging out rivals Spotswood by eight points in yet another epic encounter. The game was shifted from Avalon Airport Oval to the far less imposing Crofts Reserve in Altona North, but the two combatants made sure the grandeur of the occasion was not lost, putting on an enthralling display of finals footy. Spotswood will now take on Altona for the right to take on reigning premiers Albion in the grand final.

In a tense last quarter, Spotswood clawed back a three-goal deficit to hit the front, but could not hold on. An exhausted Albion side had enough in reserve to kick two final goals and secure a chance to defend its title. Shaydon Bloomfield top-scored with four goals, while Marcus Smith and Romain Grenville kicked three each.

For Spotswood, Jason Cloke, Torin Baker and Cameron Sharp all kicked three. Albion's Sam Stephens, who was a stand-out in the all-important third quarter, sat out the last quarter with a knee injury, while Grenville was concussed in the third quarter. Both players will be available for the Grand Final.

The Woodsmen made use of the wind in the first quarter, opening up a 22-point lead, but Albion coach Marcus Barclay was not concerned.

"Deep down we thought if we can just hold them to five or six goals because they are a very good side and considering the way the wind was if we could just hold on enough and get a couple ourselves we'd be right in the ground," he said.

"We were four goals down but it didn't seem that way. We seemed to have a fair control of the footy but it was just difficult to score. You just had to make sure every time you did get it in there you put a little bit of scoreboard pressure on."

Albion booted seven goals to one in a dominant second quarter, but the third term was perhaps the defining quarter.

"Our third quarter was fantastic, we threw a couple of loose blokes down which was pretty much the scene for the day. Spotswood did the same when we were downwind," Barclay said.

Sam Stephens' knee injury was the only downside in a polished performance by the Cats

"A lot of guys just couldn't lift their legs in the fourth quarter. I think we put all our eggs in the one basket by playing our midfield almost for the whole quarter and not rotating as much as we should have."

Spotswood coach Chris O'Keefe agreed about the importance of the third quarter in determining the result.

"Our third quarter really cost us. We had the breeze and we weren't able to capitalise, and all credit to Albion they played a bit better than us in that third quarter and stopped us from scoring and they did enough."

"I was really happy with the last quarter, we really finished the game off strongly and hit the front, but weren't able to hold it."

Albion will go into the Grand Final having not played a game on Avalon Airport Oval, while Spotswood and Altona will have played five between them after this weekend. O'Keefe said his side was suited to the wide expanses of the Werribee oval.

"It's no secret that we're a running team. That's the way that we try to play so hopefully we can get out here and show our best at Avalon."

VIKINGS REBOUND

Port Colts Bow Out Of Finals Series

Altona will have a chance at redemption this Saturday after a gutsy eleven-point victory against Port Colts in their sudden death semi-final last weekend. The Vikings will take on Spotswood in the Preliminary Final and will be desperate to atone for its 96-point loss to the Woodsman in the Qualifying Final.

Port Melbourne, whose late season form suggested a side capable of upsetting the apple cart, will rue a failure to capitalise on several opportunities in the second half as the Vikings charged home with a seven goal to five final term. Ruckman Liam Gardiner was sensational for Altona, while Jason Clarke booted five goals for Port Melbourne.

The winner of the Altona versus Spotswood match, to be played at Avalon Airport Oval this Saturday, will then face Albion in the Grand Final.

In the Division One Reserves, Hoppers Crossing defeated Sunshine 6.13 (49) to 5.12 (42) to advance to the Grand Final. Sunshine will take on Albion in the Preliminary Final on Saturday, after Albion comfortably defeated Spotswood 12.16 (88) to 3.6 (24). Joseph Rinaldi kicked five goals for the Cats, in what was his biggest haul of the season.

In Division Two the fairytale has ended for Wyndhamvale but the season cannot be described as anything less than a resounding success. In their Preliminary Final with favourites Albanvale, it was the Cobras who emerged victorious, holding off a fast-finishing Falcons to win by three points, 13.13 (91) to 13.10 (88). Michael Lindsey kicked seven goals for the Cobras in a dominant performance.

Albanvale will now take on Deer Park in the Division Two Grand Final, and will attempt to reverse the thrashing it copped at the hands of the Lions in the Qualifying Final. No team has beaten

Deer Park this year, and it would take a very brave person to tip against the all-conquering Lions, who seem destined to be promoted to Division One next season.

Wyndhamvale however can only be admired for their season. Eight weeks ago, it seemed unlikely that the Falcons would make finals, let alone be less than a goal from a grand final berth.

In the Division Two Reserves competition an inaccurate Deer Park kicked away their chances of making it a Lions triple-header this weekend, as they fell short by six points against Coburg Districts 10.11 (71) to 12.5 (77). Despite having a lot of the play, and considerably more chances in front of goal early on, Coburg hung on in a tight final term to book a Grand Final berth against Parkside this weekend.

FALLEN MATE INSPIRES VICTORY

Jets Dedicate Finals Win To Nathan Prince

The Western Jets have dedicated their 18-point elimination final victory over the Geelong Falcons to team-mate Nathan Prince who passed away four days before the match. Prince went into cardiac arrest after he was injured during a game of football for his local club in late August. The 17-year-old had played four games for the Jets during the season. "I think it's more reward for what we have faced over the last few weeks with young Nathan Prince," said coach Steve Kretiuk.

"We certainly want to make the statement that this is going to unite us. We wanted to show some respect to Nathan and also his family that we will win our first finals game in 16 years for him and his family. I thought we certainly showed our respect for them today."

The Jets played three quarters of outstanding football as they kept the Falcons at bay for the majority of the game. They fixed their goal kicking problems of last week and went into half time with an impressive return of 11.4 for a 29-point lead.

The margin was extended by a goal in the third quarter as near certain first round draftee Will Hoskin-Elliott began to take control of the game.

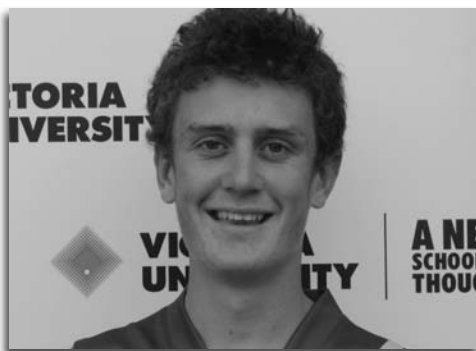

"He is an out-and-out star," said Kretiuk.

"I was rapt with his attitude last week. He went down quite early and the only thing he wanted to do was stay out there."

"He is a warrior. He has certainly matured to a position where he is dominant in this competition. They were tagging him for a half of footy and they just couldn't go with him."

Despite the hefty margin, the Falcons refused to end their season quietly as they launched a final-term fight-back. Geelong kicked the first three goals in quick fashion to put the pressure back onto the Jets and close the margin to 14 points.

Cue another moment of Hoskin-Elliott brilliance as he ran the ball off the back line and down the wing while evading opponents, before delivering a beautiful kick to team-mate Majok Aneet who kicked a steadying goal.

The Western Jets dedicated their first finals win in sixteen years to Nathan Prince

The Falcons were not done with however, as they hit back with another two quick goals – the second of which was showered in controversy after a Jets defender took a mark deep in defence but was called to play on by the umpire.

He was tackled and the ball kicked through the goals to reduce the gap to just seven points. The class of the Jets was on display though as they kicked two steadying goals to seal the 18 point win.

"Geelong really took it up to us especially in that last quarter. When you are faced with elimination you tend to respond in that situation and really throw everything at the opposition in the last quarter," Kretiuk said.

"It was just about us responding and I thought we slowed the game down a bit and took away their excitement levels."

The Jets will now take on shock first week finals loser Calder Cannons in this week's semi-final.

"Against Calder next week will have to be at our best in the engine rooms to give ourselves a chance," Kretiuk said.

"We have got to work with our key defenders this week and keep improving on our stoppage work."

Spotswood vs Altona (Preliminary Final)

Preliminary finals contain so much satisfaction for the winner and so much disappointment for the loser. The thought of playing in next week's Grand Final can sometimes create wave of panic in some players, while others will lift their concentration level and focus even harder on what is needed to win this game.

Spotswood and Altona have the opportunity to progress into the Grand Final against Albion. It is the WRFL's biggest stage and the position will have to be earned with a gut busting effort both mentally and physically. Both teams will test each other out and any sign of weakness or any lack of total commitment will be exposed and exploited.

Spotswood is a relentless team and their last quarter heroics against Albion will be called upon again to get over the Vikings. The mental toughness that Altona showed to beat Port Colts stamps them as a team that has lots going for it.

This will be a very different game than when the two sides met two weeks ago. Altona got a football lesson and coach Anthony Eames is an astute football person who turned his chargers around in 7 days. His challenge is to erase the mental demons that might be lurking from the qualifying final. Much will depend on the availability of the VFL listed players from Werribee and Williamstown.

Jason Cloke's seven goals helped the Woodsmen to an easy win over Altona a fortnight ago

Spotswood are proven finals performers and would love yet another Grand Final appearance to make it 6 in a row. Chris O'Keefe leads from the front as he showed in the last quarter last week. He will need a four quarter effort from his players to have another chance to taste premiership success.

It will be intriguing to see if Spotswood employ the forward press again and how Altona combat it. Many will expect an easy Spotswood win given the recent history between the two clubs but that would be underestimating the Vikings who have everything to play for.

Sunshine vs Albion (Preliminary Final)

One spot has been taken, one is left up for grabs. Today Hoppers Crossing finds out whether they'll need to overcome Sunshine or Albion for the Division One Reserves flag.

The Kangaroos fell agonisingly short of the minor premier in the Second Semi Final, losing by seven points after another thriller in the dying stages. For the second time in as many weeks, and possibly the first time in the competition's history, the Sunshine Reserves side were once again forced into extra time however were this time unable to hang on for the win. It was a come from behind victory for the Warriors who were 23 points adrift at the final change before coming home with a wet sail to knock off the Kangaroos.

The Roos will now be desperate to get another crack at the Warriors in a week's time, and won't want to give Albion a sniff. The Cats however will fancy their chances to spoil Sunshine's plan. Despite Sunshine being so close to earning the week off, Albion have accounted for the Kangaroos on both occasions they've met this year and will be buoyed by that form. Round Six saw Albion prevail by 54 points; nine rounds later they triumphed again by 66 points. A fair form line to say the least, here are two results were Albion were not just victorious but steadfast in their dominance. It therefore creates an intriguing plot to today's Preliminary Final. The team who was so close to eclipsing the minor premier and advancing straight through, versus the side who was a ten-goal better side on the two occasions they clashed in 2011.

For the Kangaroos, their better players, Sean Murphy, Daniel Ellis, Vincent Smart, will be key. Their performances, individually, will go a long way to their success, but critically though, the lesser likes and their cameos will be important just as much. The catalyst of Sunshine's surge, the reason they got so close to Hoppers last week, was an even team performance, so whilst the aforementioned need to perform well today, they can't be holding any passengers if they want to get closer than the nine and 11 goal losses at Albion earlier in the year.

The Cats meanwhile will be looking to James Thompson, Daniel Norris, Luke Perry, whilst Joseph Rinaldi and Shannon Russell will the spearheads up forward in kicking the Cats a winning score. Can Albion do enough to account for Sunshine so easily again, three from three? Or can the Kangaroos make amends, close the margin, and get that second chance at Hoppers Crossing that they crave so much?

St Albans vs Altona (Preliminary Final)

A fortnight after one of the upsets of the season, St Albans will again attempt to knock off powerhouse Altona as the sides fight for a berth in next weekend's Division One Grand Final.

In the first week of the finals it was a Reece Panetas inspired Saints outfit that ran out six goal winners despite not having beaten the Vikings in the home & away season. St Albans were emphatic in the second half kicking twelve goals to six and will be hoping to keep the momentum going in the rematch this weekend.

Altona on the other hand have failed to replicate their home & away form in the post season, their upset loss to the Saints in week one of the finals followed by last weekend's scare against the largely underrated Spotswood.

After such a dominant home & away season in which they lost just one game, the Vikings nearly found themselves bundled out of the finals series in straight sets last weekend as they trailed Spotswood at the final change. A last quarter surge ensured Altona would avoid that embarrassment, but their 12 point win against a side that had won six less games than them in the regular season doesn't bode too well for their Preliminary Final prospects this weekend.

While most pundits expect Altona to bounce back this weekend, the same was thought last weekend and that game was anything but convincing. At the same time despite their win in week one of the finals, the Saints have only won once in their past four starts, and their formline is also a little concerning entering their biggest game of the season to date.

In the end it will probably be a test of who will stand up for each side. For the Saints they need big performances from the likes of Watson, Panetas & the dread-locked Sosnowski, while the Vikings will yet again look to Di Genova & Kelly in the middle, and big Irving up forward. It will be a true battle of the west at Avalon Airport Oval, and either side could take this one if they play to their full potential.

UMPIRES CORNER

By Graeme Hodgart

To umpire a Grand Final you need a few things going your way. Usually the appointment is a result of a lot of hard work both on and off the training track. As Muhammad Ali once said, "The fight is won or lost far away from witnesses – behind the lines, in the gym, and out there on the road, long before I dance under those lights." The same can be said about the umpires and players who are lining up today to do their best.

For the umpires, most importantly, you need to get the nod from the relevant umpires' coach. Umpiring skill and knowledge of the game are key aspects but they do not just stand alone. There are previous match day performances to consider. One coach has spoken several times on the "one percenters" which can separate the performances of several umpires. Observers are always keen to acknowledge when an umpire has pushed him or herself that little bit extra during the course of their game or their time out on the training track.

There are some umpires who hardly miss a training session and so they score extra Brownie points for their dedication and determination. Some umpires need to put family and work commitments first and this prevents them from attending every training night.

Fitness also plays a big part. Some umpires are extremely fit and use their speed to get into the correct position when necessary. Unfortunately, injury can prevent certain umpires from taking part during the finals' matches.

Richard Watt was having a very good season until a knee injury cropped up right in the middle of the finals and meant that his aspirations may now just be a dream. Alan Pascoe had his hopes set on a certain grand final in a previous season but then tragedy struck and he was ruled out. Allan Larrad missed the whole finals series last season with a serious illness and seemed to be travelling very nicely in 2011. Then a back injury forced him to pull out of his senior finals. Steve Sutton has had more injuries than he would care to remember but seems to be holding up reasonably well at the moment. Andrew Fregonese has been held together with various bandages, tape and braces for the last ten years and continues to plod manfully on.

It can be very disappointing for those that miss out due to injury but hopefully they are able to recover and strive for another opportunity in the near future. When someone is ruled out due to injury, or for any other reason, it does open up the opportunity for somebody else to step up and fill the void. Two examples readily spring to mind in Steve Bradbury of Winter Olympic fame and Yohan Blake who took the gold when Usain Bolt was disqualified in South Korea.

Most of the umpires who take the field today will be doing so because of their own efforts and achievements throughout the 2011 season. Even so, there will be a few others looking on who can count themselves unlucky for missing out due to a number of reasons. The same can be said of a handful of unlucky footballers from the teams that are competing in that "one day in September".

Here's hoping that everyone, footballers, umpires and officials can be proud of their performance today and walk away, win, lose or draw, knowing that they have given their all.

DIVISION TWO (SENIORS)

Deer Park vs Albanvale (Grand Final)

The Grand Final brings the 2011 WRFL Division Two season to a climax and at its end looms a predictable finish. The performance of Deer Park has been gargantuan under first year coach Jimmy Condos. The team has systematically ripped apart its opposition time and time again. It has done so by virtue of having numerous stars and, by extension, having very few weak points. As mentioned previously in this gazette through the finals series, Deer Park's midfield is superb. Robert Trajkovski is the bull and the battering ram upon which centre breaks are planned and upon which opponents meekly yield. Rover Luke Summers has had another outstanding year to layer on top of a sensational stint with the Lions and recruit Christian Day is an outstanding centreman.

Deer Park's forwards don't need copious supply but they get it anyway and in Condos and Bobby Micevski, they have arguably the best one-two punch in the division, with exciting teenager Kevin Klix, Lachlan Teal and Daniel Nelson completing a venomous attack. Leigh Cook is the consistent mobile key position swingman that every team covets and Daniel Thomas is the hard-at-it, close-checking midfielder that every team needs. Graeme Catterall, on his wing, may not be a necessity but he continues to sneak under the guard of his opposition and is one of the competition's most under-rated players. That leaves defence, where Deer Park's only blemish appears to be found. It has struggled at times to contain quality mid-sized leading forwards out of the goal square and Albanvale's Micka Lindsay will be looking to expose this again. He has 10 goals in two games against the Lions, a point of concern for Condos. Across half-back, though, it is all roses. Deer Park has two sensational flankers – Dean Stankovic has been a terrific recruit and will work with Chris Robertson to provide rebound and drive from the back half. Robertson's right leg is perhaps the most convincing advertisement for human cloning seen by this author and if he is allowed to roam free and lash Deer Park chests with meticulous foot passing then the Cobra cause is a forlorn one.

They have an almighty task. Albanvale come to the game having lost two weeks ago to this very opponent by 129 points. They buttered up last week, extinguishing the fairytale season of the Wyndhamvale Falcons by three points in a thriller. Lindsay will be hugely important and he and Sherif Mohamed must be amongst the goals in quantity. Brendan Cassar has to do a job on Condos and cancel his influence and they need to stop the marauding Micevski being a menace across half-forward. Most importantly, though, the Cobras need Paul Docherty, Shane Barry and Ibbby Atik to prevail against the odds and control the stoppages and they need Michael Spatolisano, Matthew Bligh and Andrew Portelli to run, to be full of havoc and to create. Albanvale needs to be perfectly disciplined and prepared, but also needs the daring, the adventure and the belief to overcome what appear to be impossible odds. It will be a testament to the fortitude found within David Connell's men from Cobraland if they can find such a resolve and sneak away with what seems an irretrievable premiership cup.

DIVISION TWO (RESERVES)

Parkside vs Coburg Districts (Grand Final)

Two teams, one prize, it all will be on the line as the Division Two Reserves premiership is up for grabs. Two teams who proved that the home and away season is just the preliminaries, and that once the finals start the intensity rises and the stronger teams prevail.

Parkside take on Coburg Districts, two teams who caused upset wins the last few weeks and have gotten to the final stage in surprising circumstances. Firstly the Magpies in that Second Semi Final win over Deer Park when they seemed destined for a Preliminary Final appearance; the Lions had only dropped one game in 2011. Not to be undone, Coburg Districts got over Albanvale in the First Semi Final, but then against all odds accounted for Deer Park last week to face off with Parkside in the big dance.

Today's Grand Final will be only the second time these two sides have met this year – with the last encounter a comfortable 43 point win for the Magpies as they suffocated the Lions in attack and limited them to six goals for the day. Khaled Hoblos kicked five in the win, and combined with a fortnight ago where he kicked seven, shutting him down, or at least limiting his influence, will be paramount if the Lions want to keep stringing the upsets and be crowned premiers. James Franklin and Ahmed El Hassan will also be important players for the Magpies, as well as big guy Julian Storey.

Big Sean Pipe has been a powerhouse up forward for the Lions kicking 54 goals in just 12 games

For the Lions, Paul Newton, Craig Hough and Chris Pipe will need to have big games, Adam Caruso will be looked upon to repeat his good form in the Preliminary Final as well, if his side is to get up.

Parkside accounted for Deer Park in the Second Semi Final and showed they could be the dominate force in the finals and take the ultimate glory. But take Coburg Districts at your peril, they've taken down first place and third place on the way to the Grand Final, all that remains is the scalp of the second-place Magpies and the fairytale finish would be complete.

Point Cook vs Deer Park (Grand Final)

There is little doubt that Point Cook enters this weekend's Grand Final as near unbackable favourites. They're unbeaten throughout Season 2011, have strung together seventeen consecutive wins, and have comprehensively knocked off all genuine contenders including challengers Deer Park on three occasions.

Physically they are a supreme outfit that plays a clinical style of football that would challenge most of the Division One sides. With the likes of Nicholas Conte & Jason Denton in the middle of the park and the dominant powerhouses of Zac Foley & Nicholas Lampi up forward, there is little wonder why no side has managed to match the Bulldogs this year. Foley's goal tally stands at 87, with a season-best haul of twelve a couple of weeks back, while Lampi has also reached the half-century, kicking 51 at an average of more than three a game. On their day they are simply unstoppable, and apply structures and a game plan better than many senior sides running around.

As for their challengers they've got a massive task ahead if they want to bring down the Point Cook juggernaut. They do have talent that can compare with the Bulldogs, namely Jamie Pippas, Dyson Stevens & Jay Millington, but whether their talent runs as deep as the Bulldogs will be the question. Their options up forward have also been slightly limited at times, the recent good form of Daniel Briscoe possibly a wildcard for the side having kicked six when the sides met in their Second Semi Final a fortnight ago.

Having only won three of their last six games, it will be a massive task for the Lions to challenge the Bulldogs today. However while all the stats, team lists & form lines indicate a one-sided game, finals football is known for throwing up interesting results on the final day of the season, and it's an all too common occurrence of unbeaten sides getting done in the decider. Will the large number of first year players at the Bulldogs crack under the pressure of expectation? Will the smaller bodies of the Bulldogs struggle against the bigger Deer Park side? Will the lack of football over the past month take its toll on the Bulldogs? It's highly unlikely but then again, stranger things have happened in suburban finals over the years.

DIVISION TWO

Rex Swann Medal

The Rex Swann Medal is awarded to the best player on the ground in the Division Two Grand Final. It is named in honour of the long-serving president and administrator Rex Swann (OAM), a man whose honours for his service to football include WRFL life membership, the AFL Recognition Award and, most notably, a Medal of the Order of Australia.

The medal will be draped around the neck of an outstanding player – recipients in seasons past include fine players such as Shaun Harrison, Nick Mallia and Chris Stephens.

Deer Park has assembled such a fine team that if it provides the medallist, it will be an outstanding contributor. Coach Jimmy Condos could claim the medal with a hat-full of goals, Robert Trajkovski is very noticeable in the middle, as is Luke Summers, who always gathers the ball in plentiful quantity. Bobby Micevski is perhaps still unheralded but is a genuine star across half-forward and will have a pronounced say on proceedings, as should half-back Chris Robertson, whose field kicking is a beacon.

Albanvale have a ripper centreman in Ibrahim Atik who, if the Cobras win, will have had to have been prominent. Paul Docherty is a fine utility who is sure to feature and the long-sleeved Shane Barry wins plenty of football. Micka Lindsay has given Deer Park grief the two previous times these sides have met in 2011 and could be the one to propel his side to an unfathomable premiership heist and if Condos is kept quiet, Jamie Sirrianni or Brendan Cassar, whoever coach David Connell deploys as his keeper, will arguably have been the most influential player on the ground.

Whatever eventuates, no doubt the medal will be presented to a player thickly deserving of the honour.

The WRFL UMPIRES have made a lot of progress over the past two years, with a large increase in members from 120 in 2009 to 270 in 2011. This has been brought about by the establishment of three umpiring academies at Werribee, Maribyrnong & Caroline Springs and the co-operation of the secondary schools in the areas to allow us to introduce local students to umpiring. The league has benefited greatly from this with an increase in the number of games receiving official umpires. However in order to provide to all games we need over 300 umpires on our rosters. Our recruiting has also identified a number of excellent umpires who, after training with the WRFL, have gone on to umpire at VFL & AFL level. We've got a lot of young recruits, but the future looks promising.

There are a lot of players who elect to stop playing football after Under 16's & Under 18's due to many differing factors, and we invite these players to consider being involved in our great game as umpires. There is the option of attending one of our academies (no age restriction) or joining the senior umpiring team at Scovell Reserve, Maidstone. Not only are you PAID to be involved but the training teaches you control, management and general things that you may require in your careers & later life.

The WRFL is also a leader in promoting women's football and there is a requirement for more females to join the umpiring ranks within the league. Female umpires follow the same pathway as males, and can progress right through to AFL level. If you think this may appeal to you why not try it and see where it takes you contact the WRFL office on 9315 5400.
